

WHY START WITH ALPHA?

Alpha Systems, LLC began in 1984 as a manufacturing and distribution company for construction products and accessories specifically for the RV, marine and manufactured housing industries. Back then, the product offerings consisted primarily of sealants. In 1987, however, Alpha and Uniroyal Elastomerics Company pioneered the development of EPDM rubber roofing for manufactured housing and RV applications. That's when our growth really took off! Today, Alpha Systems continues to bolster its competitive edge through product quality and innovation. Our mission is to continually develop products and systems that help you build the products that today's markets demand.

- Alpha Systems' AlphaPly TPO membrane is 45 Mil, by far the thickest in the marketplace. Here are the other systems on the market: Dicor Diflex is 27 Mil, Dicor Tufflex PVC is 25 Mil, Lasalle PVC is 28mil, Alpha SuperFlex is 30 Mil.
- Peel adhesion is approximately five times higher than Alpha's current SuperFlex system. For example, other TPO systems (DiFlex) have about 1.5 pounds of pull before the membrane lets go of the wood deck (industry normal). AlphaPly has about 8 pounds of pull!
- The AlphaPly 5121 Sealant Package is 100% solids (no solvents).
 - No swelling of the membrane
 - No shrinking of sealant means less material used/savings
 - Very low maintenance required of sealant in the field after years of weathering
- An extremely pliable and workable membrane (install friendly).
- The entire roofing package (adhesive, membrane and sealant) is manufactured by Alpha Systems. We are not a distributor like our competitors who only put their name on a label and do not manufacture anything.
- AlphaPly comes with a lifetime warranty vs. the industry standard 12-year warranty.
